

Litigation

At Spiegle, we pride ourselves with the attention, service, and professionalism we provide to all our clients. Unfortunately there are some cases where disputes arise. In every instance, Spiegle does its best to resolve a dispute without litigation and to act in the best interest of all parties involved. Spiegle has no litigation in the last three years.

In addition there have been no Spiegle projects from within the last three years where sanctions, cancellations or accounts, liquidated damages, penalties, liens, defaults, cancellations of contract or termination of contract were imposed, sought to be imposed, threatened, or filed.
