Hello Treeva,

Thanks for the welcome and nice to meet you (by e-mail for now, lol).

I got a call from Ruth Mitchell from Planning and Zoning, stating that a sheriff was there inquiring about Foxfire Lane in Deland, FL. The sheriff wanted to know if that road is to have a swale or curb and gutter? She mentioned that the sheriff wanted to know because there was a neighbor "putting things" in what appears to be the Right-of-Way.

So I placed her on hold to get the information for her. I spoke with Robert and Jacqueline who advised me that is not a county maintained road. By the time I came back to the line, Ruth had hung up but I called her back and left her a voicemail stating that is not a county maintained road.

Then I came to find out, this information has been already been explained to resident with the concern/request.

That's all I got. Thanks,

Oz

I can always count on you to provide complete information...very much appreciated.
I'm passing this on to 'Oz' who has received an inquiry regarding this road.
BTW, Oz is Ross' replacement 😊

Treeva,

I have to have my supervisor call her. She is upset that the neighbor put up fence posts on his property. She believes they are in the ROW. Which we have previously determined as false.

I will let you know the outcome after Dennis speaks with her in the morning.

Randy,

I called her, as we discussed, to let her know that it's a non-maintained road and we don't have jurisdiction. I offered her the Sheriff's number, and she got very angry. She says that the Sheriff has already been out and won't do anything. She said that she is going to stop paying taxes, since she isn't getting anything for her tax money. I told her that I would pass on her comments.

I then called over to Code, to find out what notes they might have. I spoke with Sarah, who said that they didn't have anything on file for her. She said that she would give the lady a call, and will let me know what she finds out.

Thank you,

T

I have no legal jurisdiction of a non-maintained road. I thought something such as this would be Code's issue. Why would Code send it to me?

Foxfire Lane (Pine Lakes area)

One lane of Foxfire Lane being blocked by another property owner, causing the other citizens to only be allowed to use the open lane. Ms. Green said that she has given right of way in the area and would like to know if the other property owner is this allowed to block the road? Please call to advise – Code Enforcement sent her to Road Operations.

Thank you,
Karen
