The trench at the bottom of my driveway leading to the storm sewer entry has a 10 foot long depression. Debris and mud washed down from homes south of mine collect in the depression and are picked up by tires pulling into my driveway, creating a lot of mud in the driveway and in my garage. In addition, it is a breeding ground for mosquitos when it rains and/or when the sprinklers are on.

I find that I must clean up this mess quite frequently. I have previously requested that it be fixed and was told it wasn't a problem - maybe not to you, but it is to me.

I am requesting that this trench be repaired to be even so that all the debris from up the street no longer collects in this depression.

There seems to be a low spot just south of the sorm sewer entry where more debris collects and that area should also be corrected.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Ruth M. Howard
