Marlene:

I would have written sooner if I had more to report.

Our college intern has been working off and on to prepare a map of all the subdivisions and other development, with their associated permits, of the Kings Ridge development. The map was completed last week and a draft list of permits that can be transferred, those unrelated to the failed outfall pipe, was prepared.

My boss and I will go over that list and my intent to use these transfers to keep Lennar engaged in moving forward on the restoration of the failed outfall pipe.

My contact at Lennar continues to contend that Lennar no longer owns the golf course, but understands that Lennar remains responsible for any repairs needed for failures that occurred while the permit and the land was in their name.

I'll be working on this almost exclusively for the three days I'm in the office next week. I'll be back to work after New Year's.

In the meantime have a Happy Holiday season and I'll be in touch again in early January with another status update.
